

Claudio Constantini

A unique artistic personality, Claudio Constantini performs with "total elegance on the Piano and Bandoneon" (Chicago Tribune), a "true magician of the keyboards" (El País). He has performed in more than 30 countries around the world and, throughout his career, he has collected several accolades, including the Global Music Award in 2021 and a Latin Grammy nomination in 2019.

He complements his concert activity with a passion for composition.

His Concerto for Bandoneon and Orchestra premiered with the OJA (Orquesta Joven de Andalucía) in April 2021 with concerts in Seville and Jerez, and was also performed with the OFM (Málaga Philharmonic Orchestra) in July of the same year, with Constantini as soloist on all occasions. It received its American premiere in May 2023 with the Tacoma Symphony (Seattle, U.S.A.), a concert in which Constantini also performed Gershwin's Rhapsody in Blue on piano within the framework of the same concert.

Playing both instruments in the same concert is not at all unusual in his presentations.

Constantini resides in Spain, where he has performed with several of the most important Spanish orchestras, including the BOS (Bilbao Symphony), ADDA (Orchestra of the Provincial Council of Alicante), Real Filharmonia de Galicia, OEX (Orquesta de Extremadura), OCG (City of Granada Orchestra), among others. In addition, he's given recitals at important venues throughout the world such as the Wigmore Hall (London), Konzerthaus (Vienna), Los Angeles Opera, Ravinia Festival Chicago (USA), Teatro Real, Madrid National Auditorium (Spain), Seoul Arts Center (South Korea), Bogotá Teatro Mayor (Colombia), among many others.

Active at the studio, he has released 12 albums so far as frontman, in labels such as Warner Classics and IBS Classical, as well as independently.

Constantini has one of the largest social media followings in the classical music and instrumental world, adding up to over 800 thousands followers across platforms (as of July 2024). Many of his own compositions have become viral hits all over the internet.
